2022 saw us once again in Grantsville at the Deseret Peak Convention Center. It is likely that if we continue to receive this affordable rental rate we will make this site our permanent show location. Only about half an hour from Salt Lake City, this site fits our requirements well and we're able to stage a fantastic, inclusive show that draws exhibitors from all around the surrounding states.

Our numbers were similar to what we had in 2021 and it is encouraging that we have more than 100 exhibitors participating with a wide variety of breeds shown to pique the interest of onlookers. For those interested in acquiring a new breed, the Premier Show is an ideal venue as there were a number of exhibitors with extra birds for sale.

Our club president Hunter Siggard provided great leadership to ensure a successful show surrounded and supported by a Board of Directors who jumped in to get the work completed. Hunter Siggard, Josh Zilles, Kevin Severson, and Max Long worked well together and the result was a wonderful show that was great fun.

Jackie Taylor stepped up again and organized a super raffle that offered great prizes as well as earning the club a substantial profit. Thanks to Jackie and all those who supported the raffle with donations and buying tickets.

Kenna Gardner decorated the show and helped to create a pleasant atmosphere in which to display our feathered pride and joys.

Jaycee Rees transitioned from junior exhibitor to handling the junior competition.

Once again, we extend our thanks for the participation of our exhibitors, the wonderful activity in the raffle, the many fanciers who helped set up the show and the large number who stayed to help tear down the show. It is these combined efforts that make the Utah Premier Show one of the finest shows in America and a leader in the pigeon hobby. We look forward to seeing you again in 2023!

The Junior Quality Competition gives our young fanciers an opportunity to work with the best quality they can come up with in their breed. In addition to properly preparing the birds for a show, the overall breed characteristics must be of a high level and be able to successfully engage in strong competition. Well done, Juniors and thanks to Jaycee Rees for all of her help!

Mark your calendars for next year's show: Nov. 3-4, 2023

Below: Show hall with nearly everything setup prior to the birds being brought in. Also visible are some of the many banners promoting the pigeon hobby and specialty clubs. A special thanks to the many, many workers who helped set up the show. Your continued participation and help makes the Utah Pigeon Club's Premier Show genuinely "Premier"!

JUNIOR SHOWMANSHIP COMPETITION

Champion:

Gavin Godfrey

Reserve Champion:

Christopher Pickering

Participants in the Showmanship Competition must demonstrate that they are familiar with many aspects of the pigeon hobby and know what is required to raise pigeons, keep them in good health, and properly prepare them for show.

Special thanks to Jaycee Rees and her family for promoting the Junior competition and helping to ensure positive experiences and good participation from our jr. members.

Senior members of the Utah Pigeon Club are encouraged to mentor younger fanciers, offer advice and counsel, make breeding stock available and otherwise help our wonderful hobby to flourish. Utah is growing in the pigeon hobby and we welcome—and need—your continued support and engagement in the hobby to help us to maintain our growth.

We also extend our thanks to the parents of our junior participants for encouraging positive experiences in the lives of their children, including the pigeon hobby!
